MONTPELIER.

Judgment Rendered for Defendant in Case of Government vs. Railroad.

A decision giving judgment for the defendant has been rendered by Judge J. L. Martin of the United States court in the case of the government against the Montpelier & Wells River railroad for alleged violation of the interstate commerce law, by operating a locomotive without proper uncoupling device. H. C. Sheriff of this city appeared for the road and Alexander Dunnett of St. Johnsbury for the interstate commerce commission.

Montpelier authorities have been notified that the cases from here at the state hospital for the insane in Waterbury, which must be recommitted will be taken up February 18 and 19 at Waterbury.

Mrs. H. A. Russell of West Berlin is confined to the house with two cracked ribs and a number of bruises as the result of a runaway, which occurred Wednesday. She was trying to pass another team.

Mrs. Charles J. Shriver of Boston, whose jewelry, valued at $10,000, was found in an ash barrel by the janitor of the building in which she lives, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Blanchard of this city.

A bob cat was shot yesterday at the farm of Rollin D. Stewart in Berlin. The animal was found in the cellar of the barn, on a beam, and was brought down with a shot gun, after many of the hens in that vicinity had been found dead. It weighed eight pounds.

The executive committee of the Hotel Men's association of the state met at the Pavilion yesterday and made arrangements for the annual banquet of the club to be held there, February 18, as a protest against high meat prices. The banquet will be a strictly no-meat affair.

Efforts are being made to form a basketball league in this city. It is thought there are plenty of chances for the formation of teams here and if the league should materialize a trophy would be provided, in addition to the title of city champion to the winner of the series.

Papers have been filed in the office of the secretary of state by the Johnson-Richardson company, Limited, of Montreal in order to form a branch office in Burlington in charge of Byron M. Lambdin, C. M. Johnson and Herbert M. Richardson of that city are interested in the concern, which is organized for the purpose of manufacturing dyes. A branch office at the Henry Thermo Electric company of Portland, Me., will be opened at Newport. The company does a general electric business.

In line with what is being done in other parts of the state, there will be an inter-church meeting of laymen Tuesday evening in one of the churches. The object of the meeting is to prepare this section of the state and, in this instance, this county, for its share in the Vermont convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement, to be held in Burlington, March 8. A similar campaign is being carried on in seventy-five leading American cities this winter. It is expected that the attendance at the opening banquet of the convention in Burlington will be the largest body ever assembled in Vermont for religious purposes.

The directors of the board of trade held a meeting last evening and reports were read and some new business taken up. The committee are in communication with two manufacturing concerns, which they hope to be able to induce to locate in this city. The matter of leasing a booklet to boom Montpelier was considered and was referred to the committee on publicity, which will report at a subsequent meeting. It was decided to hold a banquet some time during the month of February, probably at one of the local hotels and to have some invited poets and a prominent speaker present. The proposition was adopted to have an agricultural report come to the city some time during the year and lecture to the farmers and to any one else interested. Federal and state authorities will be communicated with in the endeavor to make some arrangements along this line.

Only a few days are left in which to see the mysterious "Comet A. 1910," which has graced the western sky of nights lately, as astronomical experts tell us that by the end of January the comet will be 100,000,000 miles from the earth. Those who saw the comet on the two clear nights this week, when it was visible, will be interested in learning that the length of the tail was estimated to be 120,000,000 miles.

The F. W. Woolworth & Co. five and ten-cent store in the new Howland & Cave building was opened for business at eight o'clock this morning, and the crush of people gave a part of the excitement of a foot ball game, with some of the danger. As early as seven o'clock, people began gathering in front of the entrance, and the crowd kept increasing in size, until at eight o'clock several hundred people were waiting to gain admission. The store was soon filled with buyers when the doors were opened, and still the crowd in the street did not lessen. The would-be buyers standing in the midst of a blinding snow squall, awaiting their chances to grasp bargains. The store management estimates that fully 3,000 people entered the store between eight and ten o'clock, and the stream has kept up all day. About 3,000 people visited the store yesterday afternoon and last evening when it was opened for inspection.

A Long Lost Brother.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—"I won't charge you for that shave, pal, because you're my long lost brother," Thompson, Thomas Rich, barber, wiped the remaining flecks of lather from a patron's face and said: "How are you Ernest?" "I'm pretty good, Tom, how are you?" They shook hands and went home to supper. "As soon as I had shaved him I found a scar on his face I put there myself when we were playing Indians 20 years ago," Thomas Rich said. "We were separated when boys and had lost each other for 20 years."

What Jackson Ought to Do.

"Well, by Jove, this is lucky!" cried a young man, as he heartily slapped the back of a gentleman whom he overtook in the street. The other man turned around sharply and angrily, showing the face of a complete stranger. "I thought it was my friend Jackson," said the young man, confused. "All right," said the stranger, and he doubled the young man up with a tremendous poke in the waistcoat. "What did you do that for?" "I thought that was what Jackson ought to do," remarked the stranger, as he resumed his interrupted walk.—Judge's Library.
